Improved collaboration

Dordrecht.

The city of Dordrecht in the province of South Holland is located at the busiest point in Europe, where the river Merwede splits into the North and the Oude Maas. Dordrecht is part of the metropolitan agglomeration of “Drechtsteden” and has a very strategic location on the axis of Rotterdam and Antwerp.

With over 288,000 inhabitants and an even larger catchment area, this region fulfills an important economic function.

Dordrecht is a beautiful city with more than 900 national monuments, 700 municipal monuments and a large number of iconic buildings.
